Transfer of Equipment from National Security Council to CIA.

1. The National Security Council has recently returned to the CIA warehouse stock several items of office furniture, which requires reconditioning, cost of which is estimated at approximately thirty dollars ($30.00)

2. With your concurrence, this office will accept such property and future transfer of property from the National Security Council on a non-reimbursable basis.

3. Your early consideration in this matter would be greatly appreciated.
